The Linguistic Society of America was founded in December, 1924, for the advancement of the scientific study of language. The Society plans to promote this aim by bringing students of language together in its meetings, and by publishing the fruits of research. It has established a quarterly journal, a series of language monographs, and a series of language dissertations; the last two will appear at irregular intervals, according to the material offered to the Committee on Publications and the funds available for the purpose. Members will receive all in return for the annual dues of Five Dollars.

Membership in the Society is not restricted to professed scholars in linguistics. All persons, whether men or women, who are in sympathy with the objects of the Society, are invited to give it their assistance in furthering its work. Application for membership should be made to the Secretary, Professor Roland G. Kent, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa.

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Postoffice at Baltimore, Maryland.

This Journal is published quarterly by the Linguistic Society of America. Members of the Society receive it without extra charge, three dollars of the annual dues being appropriated for this purpose; to others, its price is five dollars per annum. Subscriptions and other business communications should be addressed to Language, or to Roland G. Kent, Treasurer, L. S. A., Mt. Royal and Guilford Aves., Baltimore, Md., or University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa. Manuscripts for publication should be sent to George Melville Bolling, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE

R. L. Ward, H. R. Wolf. [43]

The First Session of the Linguistic Society was held on the morning of Monday, December 27, in the French Room of The Drake. President Buck called the meeting to order at 9.22 A.M. About 75 persons were present during the session. The reading of papers was begun at once:

Dr. J. Milton Cowan (State University of Iowa), The Actualization of Phonemes in Continuous Discourse. Discussion by Messrs. Voegelin, Read, Swadesh, Kurath, Bloch.
Prof. Morris Swadesh (University of Wisconsin), Preverb Displacement in Chitimacha. Discussion by Messrs. Watkins, Kurath.
Prof. Harry A. Rositzke (Municipal University of Omaha), The Syllabic Accent in Scandinavian. Discussion by Messrs. Haugen, Larsen, Sturtevant.
Dr. Mary R. Haas (Yale University), Ablaut and its Function in Muskogee.
Prof. C. F. Voegelin (DePauw University) and Prof. Morris Swadesh (University of Wisconsin), Morpho-Phonemics and Variable Vowel-Length in Tübatulabal.

Prof. George William Small (University of Maine), Early Overlapping of Subjunctive and Indicative in Old English. Discussion by Messrs. Ward, Kurath.

The President appointed Messrs. C. M. Lotspeich and L. S. Hitchcock to serve as Committee on Resolutions. Adjournment was taken at 11.28 A.M.

The Second Session of the Linguistic Society was held on the afternoon of Monday, December 28, in the French Room of The Drake. President Buck called the meeting to order at 2.21 P.M. About 75 persons were present during the session. The reading of papers was at once begun:

Prof. Einar Haugen (University of Wisconsin), Retroflex Consonants in Scandinavian.

Dr. Zellig S. Harris (University of Pennsylvania), The Spread of Linguistic Changes among the Canaanite Dialects. Discussion by Messrs. Sellers, S. H. Cross, Kurath.

Prof. C. C. Rice (Catawba College), A Sketch of the Finistère Pronunciation of Literary Breton. Discussion by Messrs. Buck, Rositzke.

Prof. Alfred Senn (University of Wisconsin), Observations on German Loanwords in Lithuanian. Discussion by Messrs. Buck, Edgerton, Noyes, S. H. Cross.

Mr. Frederic G. Cassidy (University of Michigan), Help Wanted in Old English Syntax. This paper was read by title only, in the absence of the author.

Dr. Bernard Bloch (Brown University), Pitch, Time, and Stress in English Syntax. Discussion by Messrs. Hall, Bolling, Noyes, Sellers, Hitchcock, Joos, E. Cross, Kurath, Cowan, Miss Haas, Mr. Hanley.

Prof. Roland G. Kent (University of Pennsylvania), Notes on Old Persian Inscriptions. Discussion by Messrs. Buck, Edgerton, Kurath.

Adjournment was taken at 4.50 P.M.

The Third Session of the Linguistic Society was held on the evening of Monday, December 27, in the French Room of The Drake. Vice-President Kurath called the meeting to order at 8.18 P.M. About 80 persons were present during the session. The reading of papers was at once begun:

- Prof. Carl Darling Buck (University of Chicago), President of the Linguistic Society of America: Some Words for Emotions and Moral or Aesthetic Notions. Discussion by Messrs. E. Cross, Flom, Bolling.
- Prof. Charles C. Fries (University of Michigan), Some Notes on the the Inflected Genitive in Present-Day English. Discussion by Messrs. Petersen, Rose, Swadesh, Hanley, Bolling, Kurath, Sturtevant, Noyes, Miss Hahn, Messrs. Luebke, Flom, Hitchcock, Senn.
- Prof. Ovid R. Sellers (Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Chicago), Opposite Meanings in One Word. Discussion by Messrs. Kent, Bolling, Ward, Graff, Price, Senn, Swadesh, Kurath, Miss Hahn, Messrs. Rice, Rose.

Adjournment was taken at 9.56 P.M.

The Fourth Session of the Linguistic Society was held on the morning of Tuesday, December 28, in the Ball Room of The Knickerbocker, across the street from The Drake. Vice-President Kurath called the meeting to order at 9.22 A.M. About 80 persons were present during the session, which began with the business of the Society.

By motion, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with, as they had already been printed in Bulletin No. 10 of the Society, pages 3-20, which was distributed in February, 1937.

The Secretary, Prof. R. G. Kent, presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

For the year 1937 the membership statistics are as follows: For the year 1936 there were 470 members (apart from Honorary Members), of whom 4 died during the year (W. F. Badè, S. E. Bassett, M. Callaway Jr., C. Knapp), and 1 in 1935 (I. Takai); 10 presented their resignations, effective at the end of 1936 (W. A. Craigie, H. A. Davidson, L. Dennis, E. A. Esper, J. M. Manly, J. P. McCormick, I. L. Schroeder, F. Tupper, J. A. Walz, J. P. Wenninger); 12 were dropped for non-payment of dues during 1935 and 1936. The net membership with which the Society started 1937 was therefore 443; the new members for 1937 are 39. The total membership for 1937, in addition to the Honorary Members, is 482, a gain of 12 over 1936. Of these, 10 are unpaid for 1936-7 and are subject to being dropped from the rolls at this time, and 36 others are unpaid for 1937. We regretfully record the death of 2 Active Members in 1937: Eva Fiesel on May 27, and A. G. Solalinde on July 13. [The death of R. F. Butin was brought to the Secretary's attention too late for inclusion.]

Since the last report, two new Life members have been received: Mary R. Haas, Morris Swadesh, in February 1937. Their Life Membership fees have been added to the principal of the Endowment Fund.

The Honorary Members were 21 in number at the end of 1936, when the Society elected 3 (J. Jud, B. Karlgren, N. Trubetzkoy), making a total of 24 for 1937.

The library subscriptions have increased from 152 to 164, by the loss of 7 and the addition of 19. Of the 164, there are 72 foreign subscriptions.

The exchanges and copies for review have increased from 81 to 83.

The number of foreign scholars receiving the regular publications of the Society gratuitously is now 106.

One notable feature of the year's work was the action of the Executive Committee in establishing Groups interested in specific portions of the linguistic field, to be managed by their own committees and administered by the Linguistic Society. The Group for Phonemics numbers 51 adherents for 1937, and that for American Indian Languages 34 adherents.

The Secretary again appeals for help in increasing the membership of the Society. It is essential to our progress that we should secure the adherence, and with that the scholarly and financial support, of many persons who admittedly are interested in the work of the Society, but as yet have refrained from participation.

As Treasurer, Prof. Kent presented the annual financial report, stating that he had found some small errors since it was drawn up, and asking permission to have it re-audited by the Auditors (W. N. Brown, I. Dyen, appointed in advance of the meeting by the President), whose report would then be made to the new Executive Committee. This permission was granted, and the report, in its corrected form, is here presented:

The report of the Trustees of the Endowment Fund is here appended:

The Trustees of the Endowment Fund report that during the year 1937 the sum of $172.50 has been received as Life Membership Fees of Morris Swadesh and Mary R. Haas; and that this sum has been placed in the Five Thousand Dollar United States Treasury Bond, due 1951-55, releasing the same amount of current funds used in the purchase of this bond in 1933. The Five Thousand Dollar Bond is held by the First National Bank of Philadelphia, Centennial Branch, for the Trustees, subject to withdrawal by the Treasurer and one other Trustee.

The Endowment Funds are therefore as follows:

Linguistic Society of America	$1420.00
Linguistic Institute	2092.00

The Funds are thus invested:

1 $5000 Three per cent United States Treasury Bond, 1951-55, purchased for	$4937.50
---	-----------

This Bond therefore now includes $1425.50 of current funds.

The Treasurer reports the receipt of the interest due on this Bond, up to and including September 15, 1937, and that the proportionate part, $64.42, has been placed to the credit of the Linguistic Institute.

(signed) F. Corlies Morgan
E. B. Williams
Roland G. Kent, Treasurer.

[The signed report of the Auditors, dated January 5, 1938, is as follows: We have examined the final revised accounts of the Treasurer for the period Dec. 19, 1936 to Dec. 20, 1937, and found them correct.—W. Norman Brown, Isidore Dyen.]

On behalf of the Executive Committee, the Secretary presented the following report:

During the year the Executive Committee, acting by correspondence, fixed the time and place of the present meeting, elected to membership several lists of nominees published in LANGUAGE as elected in 1937, and arranged the program of the present meeting.

The Society voted, in its business meeting on December 28, 1936, to refer to the Executive Committee with power, the matter of protest against the attacks recently made on languages as objects of study (Bulletin No. 10, page 16); and after much consultation the Executive Committee adopted the following statement:

The Linguistic Society of America views with deep concern the declining importance given to the study of foreign languages, both ancient and modern, in colleges and secondary schools. It deplores the increasing attempts on the part of many leaders in curriculum reorganization and of educational administrators to remove such study from the secondary curriculum. It therefore endorses the current movement on the part of the four regional classical associations, with the cooperation of similar groups in the fields of modern languages and mathematics, to defend the place of humanistic studies in American education. It further instructs its representatives to the American Council of Learned Societies to join the representatives of the American Philological Association in urging upon the Council the undertaking of a study of the proper place of the humanities in American education.

The Executive Committee also formulated provisions under which Groups of scholars with specialized linguistic interests might be organized and administered by the Society, with each Group having its own Managing Committee and such other Committees as are needed for its work. The Secretary has aided in the formation of two such Groups: the Group for Phonemics and the Group for American Indian Linguistics. The detailed provisions under which the Groups operate are printed in LANGUAGE 13.256-8.

The Executive Committee received with regret the resignation of President Merle M. Odgers of Girard College as Trustee of the Endowment Funds of the Society, and sent to him a statement of the Society's grateful appreciation of his services. They then appointed Professor Edwin B. Williams of the University of Pennsylvania as his successor.

The Executive Committee, with the Committee on Publications, met on Monday, December 27, at 10.05 P.M., in Room M-17 of The Drake. Present, President Buck, presiding, and Messrs. Bolling, Kurath, Kent, Lane, Sperber, Twaddell; also, by invitation, Messrs. Edgerton, Flom, Fries, Miss Hahn, Messrs. Hanley, Lotspeich, Sturtevant.

Additional nominees for membership in the Society were elected.

The reports of the Secretary, the Treasurer, the Editor of the Publications, the Director of the Linguistic Institute, the Committee on Research, and the Delegates to the American Council of Learned Societies, were informally presented and their contents considered.

The Executive Committee recommends that the present Committee on the Linguistic Institute be continued in connection with a Linguistic Institute of the University of Michigan and the Linguistic Society of America in the summers of 1939 and 1940, provided the Society assume no financial responsibility; and that a sum not exceeding $65.00 of the current funds of the Linguistic Institute be placed at the disposal of the Committee to be used toward the expense of bringing lecturers to Ann Arbor in 1938 to give public lectures on linguistic topics.

The Executive Committee authorized the Secretary of the Society and the Director of the Linguistic Institute to arrange a special meeting of the Society at Ann Arbor in the last week-end of July, 1938.

For the Committee on the Present Status of College and University Courses Announced under the Name of Phonetics, Prof. M. L. Hanley as Chairman (with R. H. Stetson, J. S. Kenyon) reported as follows:

A knowledge of phonetics is important in many fields of study, but at present our college curricula show a wasteful dissipation of effort, with much duplication and overlapping. The elementary principles are taught over and over again, but what is worse, are often incompetently taught. There is no agreement as to either content or aim. The Committee recommends that curriculum committees in various institutions consider the possibility of offering a general introductory course, to be supplemented by work in the various language fields, speech, anthropology, music, etc. There are not enough competent teachers at present, but this lack should be remedied within a few years.

The Executive Committee ordered the report filed and the Committee continued.

The Executive Committee considered the provision of the American Documentation Institute (address, Offices of Science Service, 2101 Constitution Ave., Washington, D. C.), that the Linguistic Society of America be one of the (about 68) Societies privileged to nominate a voting member of the Institute. As the Institute is a non-profit corporation intended to serve scholars by the mechanical reproduction of materials and sources, etc., the Executive Committee recommends that the offer be accepted, and that the naming of the Society's delegate be left to the Executive Committee.

The Executive Committee recommends that the Society add to the Constitution a new Article IV, renumbering the present Articles IV, V, VI as V, VI, VII; the text of the new Article, printed in LANGUAGE 13.256-7, to be as follows: To meet the needs of scholars with specialized linguistic interests, Groups may be organized, on terms approved by the Executive Committee. The Society shall, through its officers and members, cooperate with the Groups in the furtherance of their aims.

The Executive Committee recommends that Prof. J. Vendryes of Paris be elected to Honorary Membership.

The Executive Committee recommends that a Committee of Three on the Application of Linguistic Knowledge to the Practical Problems of the Teachers of English be authorized, to be appointed by the Executive Committee, to cooperate with similar representatives from the National Council of Teachers of English and the Present-Day English Group of the Modern Language Association of America.

A number of other matters were discussed, but it seems unnecessary to give them a place in this formal report.

The report was ordered to be received and filed. The Society, on motions properly seconded, elected to Honorary membership the nominee of the Executive Committee, adopted the amendment to the Constitution, and authorized the nomination of a member of the Society for membership in the American Documentation Institute and the appointment of a Committee on the Application of Linguistic Knowledge to the Practical Problems of the Teachers of English. It postponed action on the recommendations regarding the Linguistic Institute, until the report of the Director of the Institute should have been presented. The Society also expressed its approval of other actions of the Executive Committee which did not require formal adoption.

The Secretary then announced that the Executive Committee named Prof. E. H. Sehrt as its nominee for membership in the American Documentation Institute, and Prof. C. C. Fries, Prof. L. Bloomfield, and Prof. J. S. Kenyon as Committee on Application of Linguistic Knowledge to the Practical Problems of Teachers of English, the first-named to serve as Chairman.

Prof. G. M. Bolling, Editor of the Publications of the Society and Chairman of the Committee on Publications, presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

For the Committee on Publications I have the honor to report that the Society has issued the following Regular Publications in 1937:

Language, Vol. 13, 335 pages.

Language Monograph No. 17: William Edward Collinson, Indication; a study of demonstratives, articles, and other 'indicators', edited by Alice V. Morris; 128 pages.

Language Dissertation No. 23: Moshé Berkooz, The Nuzi Dialect of Akkadian, orthography and phonology; 64 pages; University of Pennsylvania Dissertation.

Language Dissertation No. 24: Mark Hanna Watkins, A Grammar of Chichewa, a Bantu language of British Central Africa; 158 pages; University of Chicago Dissertation.

Language Dissertation No. 25: Margaret Whilldin Herr, The Additional Short Syllables in Ovid; 31 pages; University of Pennsylvania Dissertation.

Bulletin No. 10: Proceedings and List of Members 1936; 59 pages.

The following Special Publication was issued:

George C. S. Adams and Clement M. Woodard, with the cooperation of Urban T. Holmes Jr., A Census of French and Provençal Dialect Dictionaries in American Libraries, 17 pages; and Supplement, 1 page.

The following have been accepted for publication in 1938:

Language Monograph No. 18: Robert A. Hall Jr., An Analytical Grammar of the Hungarian Language.

Special Publication: Eduard Prokosch, Comparative Germanic Grammar (in the William Dwight Whitney Linguistic Series of Yale University).

Special Publication: Edward Sapir and Morris Swadesh, Nootka Texts (in the William Dwight Whitney Linguistic Series of Yale University).

A number of other volumes, including several dissertations, are under consideration.

Prof. C. C. Fries, Director of the Linguistic Institute, presented the following report for the joint Committee of the Linguistic Society and the University of Michigan (C. C. Fries, Chairman; E. H. Sturtevant, N. L. Willey, W. H. Worrell, R. G. Kent):

The Linguistic Institute of 1937, like that of 1936, was an integral part of the Summer Session of the University of Michigan. Even more than in 1936, however, it maintained a distinct unity within itself. The publicity which its lectures and conferences received served to attract to linguistics the attention of groups that very rarely hear of linguistic science and the problems with which it deals. There were twelve evening lectures and thirteen luncheon conferences on linguistic subjects. Three of the lectures, those by Professors Petersen, Sturtevant, and Bloomfield, were made possible by the funds provided by the Linguistic Society. The usual attendance at the lectures was 75; at the luncheon conferences, 85. Lively discussions invariably followed the talks.

The faculty of the Institute consisted of eighteen men, twelve from the staff of the University of Michigan and six from other universities. This faculty gave 28 courses in which there were 356 elections from 258 separate students. Of these students, 29 held the Ph.D. degree and were, in most cases, members of the faculties of other colleges or universities. (These figures do not include the staff members who visited courses given by their colleagues.) Ten students received scholarships provided by the American Council of Learned Societies.

Those who attended the Linguistic Institute for 1937 seemed genuinely enthusiastic concerning the work accomplished. Greater numbers as such are not desired, but it is hoped that the Institute will continue to attract to its sessions an ever increasing proportion of the active workers in linguistics.

We ask the following actions by the Society:

1. That, inasmuch as the administrative officers of the University of Michigan have agreed to continue the support of the Linguistic Institute for the years 1938, 1939, and 1940, and the Linguistic Society has already sanctioned the carrying on of the work for the year 1938, the Society authorize arrangements for sessions in 1939 and 1940.
2. That, inasmuch as in 1936 and 1937 the Linguistic Society made appropriations from the current funds of the Linguistic Institute, for special lectures to be brought to Ann Arbor from other universities, the Linguistic Society continue this practice in 1938.
3. That the Linguistic Society arrange for a summer meeting at Ann Arbor in the last week-end in July, when a concentrated program of great value to the Linguistic Institute and to the Linguistic Society of America might be held, with one or two special invited lecturers. Such a meeting would provide an opportunity to bring the Society to the attention of a fairly large group of academic people who should be interested in its activities.

On motion, properly seconded, the Society adopted the recommendations of the Executive Committee applying to the Linguistic Institute, which were contained in the report of the Executive Committee.

Prof. E. H. Sturtevant, for the Standing Committee on Research (E. H. Sturtevant, Chairman, term expiring Feb. 1, 1940; F. Edgerton, term expiring Feb. 1, 1938; G. M. Bolling, term expiring Feb. 1, 1939), presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

Your Committee has considered such projects for research as have been submitted, but no recommendations have been made during 1937. Two manuscripts that have been submitted to us are now undergoing revision. We hope that they may be recommended for publication at an early date.

Prof. E. H. Sturtevant, for the Delegates to the American Council of Learned Societies (E. H. Sturtevant, term expiring Dec. 31, 1938; E. Prokosch, term expiring Dec. 31, 1940), presented the following report, which was ordered to be received and filed:

The annual meeting of the American Council of Learned Societies was held in New York, January 29 and 30, 1937. Both the Delegates and the Secretary of the Linguistic Society were present.

It was voted to admit the American Numismatic Society to representation in the Council, thus raising the number of Constituent Societies to twenty.

The resolution adopted by the Executive Committee of the Linguistic Society by authorization given on December 28, 1936, urging the Council to undertake a study of the proper place of the humanities in American education, was presented to the Council. As a result of this resolution and of a similar one presented by the American Philological Association, it was voted to instruct the Executive Committee of the Council to confer with the Executive Committees or officers of the National Research Council, the Social Science Research Council, and the American Council on Education, with a view to undertaking a general study of the problems referred to in the resolutions of the American Philological Association and the Linguistic Society of America, especially as they affect the place of the various scientific and cultural disciplines in American education.

In spite of its reduced resources the Council has continued its support of the Linguistic Atlas of the United States and Canada during the year 1937. A subvention has now been secured from the Rockefeller Foundation which will make possible the completion during 1938 of the mapmaking and editing of the New England section of the Atlas. The field work in Virginia and North Carolina has been finished, but funds are not available for continuing work in the South or anywhere else outside New England.

The Council has recently had very little money to appropriate for research in Native American Languages, but the work has been continued by a number of scholars, partly with the aid of funds provided from other sources. In 1937 the Council appropriated $1000 for a conference to consider the present state and needs of the study of native American languages and to formulate plans for further work in that field.

The Council has a fund to assist in the training of research personnel, especially in the fields of study which the Council is endeavoring to develop. The largest grant made from this fund in 1937 is of particular interest to the Linguistic Society. The Council and Yale University have jointly made it possible for Dr. George L. Trager to spend eighteen months in studying Balto-Slavic linguistics at various places in Europe. It is hoped that this grant may eventually lead to putting this branch of study in the United States on a solid foundation.

Prof. Franklin Edgerton, as Chairman of the Committee to Nominate Officers for 1938, presented the following nominations, which, he explained, included one change from the list printed in the Circulars of the meeting; Prof. M. J. Andrade had withdrawn his name, feeling that his absence on field-work at the time of the regular meetings made his holding of office undesirable:

President, Prof. Louis H. Gray, Columbia University.

Vice-President, Prof. Kemp Malone, Johns Hopkins University.

Secretary and Treasurer, Prof. Roland G. Kent, University of Pennsylvania.

Executive Committee, the preceding, and Prof. Hermann Almstedt, University of Missouri; Prof. C. C. Fries, University of Michigan; Prof. A. L. Kroeber, University of California.

Editor and Chairman of the Committee on Publications: Prof. George Melville Bolling, Ohio State University.

Member of the Committee on Publications, to serve through 1940: Prof. Edward Sapir, Yale University.

Nominations from the floor were called for by the President, but no such nominations were made. The report was then adopted in the usual manner, and the nominees were declared elected, for terms beginning with January 1, 1938.

Prof. C. M. Lotspeich, for the Committee on Resolutions, presented the following report, which was on motion adopted:

We suggest for adoption these resolutions:

Resolved, that the Linguistic Society of America express its sincere appreciation (1) to the Secretaries of the Modern Language Association of America and the American Philological Association for their admirable cooperation in making arrangements for the meetings; (2) to the Local Committees for their thoughtful planning and cordial reception; (3) to the Hotels Drake, Knickerbocker, and Benjamin Franklin, particularly to their convention managers, for excellent accommodations and numerous courtesies.

The Vice-President now left the chair, calling Professor Franklin Edgerton to preside during the remainder of the session.

Under the final item of other business, brought up by any member of the Society, two matters were handled.

Prof. E. Cross stated that he understood that the Society's policy was to keep apart from matters of politics and religion, and that a quotation from a private letter had been printed in the account of the award of the Laetare Medal to Prof. J. D. M. Ford (LANGUAGE 13.260), which had been understood by many persons as an endorsement of one side in the Spanish conflict. The Secretary assumed all responsibility for printing the quotation, whose wording was on its face absolutely impartial and merely a condemnation of civil disturbance; he said that he had so understood it, and would not otherwise have allowed its appearance in LANGUAGE, and that he would print this statement in the Proceedings of the Meeting, and in the first available issue of LANGUAGE (which would be the second issue in 1938). The meeting was satisfied with this disposal of the matter.

Dr. F. R. Preveden demanded that the Society take cognizance of the charges brought by him against certain members of the Society, in the printed 'Appeal' which he had recently circulated through the mails to most of the Society's members. His motion to this effect drew forth a full statement from Prof. C. D. Buck in refutation of his charges, and the motion was laid on the table. After other discussion, including reports of separate examinations by the Secretary of the Society and by Prof. E. A. Hahn, the Society adopted, with apparent unanimity, the minute of Prof. C. C. Fries, as follows: In view of the evidence before it, namely the statement made by Professor Buck and the confirmation of the facts by Professors Kent and Hahn, it is the sense of this meeting that the charges made by Mr. Preveden are without foundation.

The reading of papers was then taken up:

Prof. Hans Kurath (Brown University), The Linguistic Geography of the Connecticut Valley; illustrated with lantern-slides. Discussion by Messrs. Edgerton, Joos, Voegelin.

Dr. Ralph L. Ward (Yale University), The Simplification of Long Continuants in Pre-Ionic-Attic. Discussion by Mr. Buck.

Prof. Robert A. Hall Jr. (University of Puerto Rico), Three Italian Etymologies.

Mr. Martin Joos (University of Wisconsin), A Dialect of Albanian. Discussion by Messrs. Buck, Hall, Edgerton.

Adjournment was taken at 12.55 P.M.

The Fifth Session of the Linguistic Society was held on the afternoon of Tuesday, December 28, in the Ball Room of The Knickerbocker.

President Buck called the meeting to order at 2.20 P.M. About 30 persons were present during the session. The reading of papers was at once begun:

- Dr. Harold D. Rose (Cambridge, Mass.), Phonemes, Morphemes, Semantemes.
- Prof. Edgar H. Sturtevant (Yale University), Hittite Evidence against Full Grade o (short or long). Discussion by Messrs. Buck, Petersen, Swadesh, Edgerton.
- Prof. E. Adelaide Hahn (Hunter College), The Development of the Non-Restrictive Relative Clause in Hittite. Discussion by Messrs. Kent, Hitchcock.
- Prof. Walter Petersen (University of Chicago), Initial Hittite hu-. Discussion by Messrs. Edgerton, Swadesh, Sturtevant, Buck, Kent, Walther.
- Dr. Robert J. Kellogg (Ottawa, Kas.), Hittite Siunas 'sun, Sun(god), God'; Tawan-/Tun- 'Skygod, Sungod, God'. This paper was read by title only, in the absence of the author.

Adjournment was taken at 4.18 P.M.

The Session of the Modern Language Association of America, held on the evening of Tuesday, December 28, in the Lantern Room of The Drake, is here chronicled, because it was an invitation program largely of linguistic nature, sponsored by the Association's Committee on Research Activities. Members of the Linguistic Society were especially invited to attend, and most of those who had been at the Sessions of the Society were present at this evening session. After reports of certain committees and of the Delegates to the American Council of Learned Societies, the following papers were presented:

- Prof. Leonard Bloomfield (University of Chicago), Science among the Humanities.
- Prof. Franklin Edgerton (Yale University), Etymology and Interpretation.
- Prof. Leo Spitzer (Johns Hopkins University), Linguistic and Literary Comments on a Modern French Text.

An Informal Gathering was held in Philadelphia on the morning of Thursday, December 30, in Room 206 of The Benjamin Franklin, designed to meet the desires of those eastern members who were unable to make the trip to Chicago. The Secretary of the Society called the meeting to order at 11.02 A.M., and asked Prof. L. H. Gray, President-elect of the Society for 1938, to take the chair, which he took with the approval of the gathering. About 50 persons were present.

The Secretary presented a report on the business transacted by the Society at the Chicago meeting, and Prof. Ephraim Cross, Prof. E. Adelaide Hahn, and Prof. Edgar H. Sturtevant gave brief summaries of the papers read at Chicago, and general impressions of the meeting as a whole. Dr. G. L. Trager reported on the meeting of the American Anthropological Association, just held at New Haven, including the election of Prof. Edward Sapir as President of that organization for 1938. Two papers were then read:

Dr. Truman Michelson (Smithsonian Institution), Report on the Season's Field-Work among the Indians on the Northern Shore of the St. Lawrence. Discussion by Messrs. Trager, Siebert.

Dr. Harry L. Levy (Hunter College), Gnomonica in Gellius I.9.6.

Adjournment was taken at 12.55 P.M.

The Sixth Session of the Linguistic Society was held on the afternoon of Thursday, December 30, in the Betsy Ross Room of The Benjamin Franklin, jointly with the American Philological Association. Prof. H. A. Sanders, President of the Association, called the meeting to order at 2.06 P.M., and presided during part of the session, when Prof. Lily R. Taylor succeeded him in the chair. About 100 persons were present. The reading of papers was at once begun (those presented on behalf of the Philological Association are marked with *):

Dr. J. Alexander Kerns (New York University), The Imperfect in Armenian and Irish.

Dr. George L. Trager (Yale University), The Position of Mute e and the Semivowels in the French Sound System. Discussion by Messrs. Kent, Cross.

Dr. R. E. Saleski (Woodridge, Va.), Semantics as the Study of the Import of Words. Discussion by Mr. Trager.

*Prof. E. H. Sturtevant (Yale University), The Greek Smooth Breathing. Discussion by Messrs. Post, Trager.

*Prof. E. Adelaide Hahn (Hunter College), Hittite kwiskwis. Discussion by Messrs. Sturtevant, Carr.

*Prof. Elizabeth C. Evans (Wheaton College), Varro's List of Sabine Divinities.

*Prof. Walter H. Juniper (Cumberland College), A Study of Verb Synonyms in Plautus.

*Mrs. Aline Abaecherli Boyce (Ann Arbor), The Expiratory Rites of 207 B.C.

The following papers were presented by title only:

Prof. Frank R. Blake (Johns Hopkins University), The Origin of Long Vowels in Semitic Biconsonantal Forms.

Dr. Robert J. Kellogg (Ottawa, Kas.), A Tentative Semantic Grouping of Hittite ark-Words.

Prof. Alfred Senn (University of Wisconsin), Problems of Accentuation in the Lithuanian Standard Language.

Other papers also of the Philological Association were presented by title.

Adjournment was taken at 4.30 P.M.

(signed) ROLAND G. KENT,
Secretary.

LIST OF MEMBERS, 1937

This list includes all those who were on the rolls of the Society in 1937. SC before the name indicates Signers of the Call which led to the foundation of the Society, FM indicates Foundation Members, a date indicates the year of election. So far as the information is at hand, the special subject of instruction or of study, or the occupation, is given. Any changes of address or of title, and any errors, should be at once reported to the Secretary of the Society. Later lists will give the names of those who become members during 1938.
